VARSITY SONGSTERS SCORE WITH CROWD

Large Audience Hears Full Concert of Glee Club at
Wilma

Ensemble work which was as smooth as silk, with no voice distinguishable from the others, fortissimo passages full and rich, and pianissimos reduced almost to whispers with no loss of tone quality were high marks in the Glee Club program given at the Wilma theater Wednesday evening.

With only two days' rest from their twelve-day trip over the state, the University songsters, under the direction of Dean DeLoss Smith, gave a program which has no rival among amateur performances in Montana.

Choruses that swelled and ebbed like the music of a pipe organ, solos that were all anyone could ask of professionals, quartette numbers revealing pleasing touches of harmony, and orchestra whose syncopations set the feet tapping and the ankles of exponents of the Charleston to wriggling, and a comedy skit which brought continuous ripples of laughter, featured the twelfth annual appearance of the club in Missoula.

Many old favorites were given for the entertainment of the audience, as well as new ones that lived up to the previous high standard of club performances in this city. "April Eyes," given by special request, was one of the hits of the evening. The quartette lived up to its reputation. "The

MAGAZINE TO PRINT BRADLEY'S ARTICLE

Author Gives Detailed Account of Montana Rockies to National Geographic

Dr. J. H. Bradley, Jr., of the State University Geology department, received a letter Monday from Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, accepting an article entitled "Hunting Game 100,000,000 Years Old" for publication in the National Geographic Magazine.

The article which Dr. Bradley submitted to the Society was written after the State Geology expedition returned last summer from a successful trip to the South Fork of the Flathead country, in search of fossil shells for use in the department and for exchange purposes.

Not Widely Famed.

In the opening paragraph of Dr. Bradley's article he says, "Close to the heart of the Rockies in northern Montana is a land which is not widely famed for its abundance and variety of its game and fish. Perhaps we of the Treasure state are a bit selfish in being glad that this is true, for otherwise we should scarcely know where to go to find the sort of land of which every sportsman dreams, and for which he longs; a land unspoiled by man, the real paradise for the lover of nature." Later on he says, "I writing of the land in Montana I write not of one out of many regions I know where fishing and hunting are still excellent, but of a land which, for a combination of game, fish, scenery, climate and virgin loveliness is unexcelled in my experience."

The article is the chronicle of the trip taken by the Montana Geology expedition and is written in an attractive and interesting manner.

MONTANA TO HAVE DELEGATE TO ROME

"Dr. C. A. Schenck, internationally known German forester, who has been lecturing in the Forestry school the past quarter, will be the State University's Forestry school representative at the International Conference of Foresters at Rome, Italy, April 29 to May 5.

The purpose is to study forest conditions in the European countries. Principal cities in Holland, France, Italy, Switzerland and Germany will be visited during the tour. The party will travel by the Holland-American line where Dr. Schenck will have a lecture room available on the out-bound voyage.

The main tour will return the early part of June, but Dr. Schenck will visit Finland on the personal invitation of Dr. Cajander, chief of forestry and twice president of that country. From there he will return to his parental home at Heidelberg in Frankfurt for the balance of the summer.

To Return to States.
In the fall, Dr. Schenck intends to return to the United States. His permanent address will be at Orange, New Jersey.

YMCA MOVEMENT IS SUBJECT OF TALK

B. M. Cherrington, Former California
Coach Addresses Student Body
on International Growth

"Greater today than at any other time in the past, are nations of the world realizing that international contact is inevitable, and that they must stand for common principles as do numerous collegiate football teams stand behind their conference rulings," said B. M. Cherrington, student representative of the western region of the YMCA, at a special convocation held yesterday morning in Main hall.

Coached at California

As a former athletic coach at the University of California, Mr. Cherrington compared the world's development to that of football. He said that years ago teams were formed who played games with no governing rules whatsoever, except those immediately contracted by the two teams involved. Fast growth caused regional selection and conference rulings which definitely classified and governed all participants as our present system. He thinks the world, too, is fast coming to the same plan, as a stone's throw hardly separates the most distant nations, in comparison to days of the past.

Tells of YMCA and YWCA

In Mr. Cherrington's lecture, particular emphasis was placed upon the part YMCA and YWCA plays in spreading better international feeling among college groups of every country in the world. He asserts that the spirit is growing in every school and foreign students are radiating a new and broader interpretation of internationalism.

Has Just Returned From Europe

Mr. Cherrington has just returned from Europe and Asia and pictured most vividly the recent developments he witnessed. He spoke to the School of Religion and Dr. Underwood's classes in sociology yesterday afternoon. Saturday at 6 o'clock he will address a joint meeting of the Student Volunteer group and the International club at the YWCA. Sunday morning at 11 o'clock he will talk at the Methodist church, and that evening he will be the speaker at an open forum held in the Community church. His subject for the forum will be, "What I See American Students Doing." Professor E. L. Freeman, who has charge of the open forum, cordially invites everyone to attend.

Health Conditions Fair, Reports Nurse

"Health conditions for the month of February were as good as could be expected for that month," said Mrs. A. F. LeClaire, University nurse. "We were fortunate in not having any cases of measles and only a few of mumps. However, like the rest of the city we had our touch of the flu."

The health service report for the month of February is as follows: Men—Visits to office, 219; visits to hospital, 60; visits to home, 2; visits to South hall infirmary, 22; visits to hospital, 19; requested to see doctors, 26; visits to campus infirmary, 1; colds and minor ills, 143; dressings, 47; sent to South hall infirmary, 22; eye examinations, 1; mumps, 4; flu, 28; minor operations, 2.

Women—Visits to office, 110; visits to hospital, 46; visits to home, 15; visits to infirmary, North and Craig halls, 28; colds and minor ills, 70; requested to see doctors, 42; dressings, 7; sent to hospital, 9; sent to North hall infirmary, 7; sent to Craig hall infirmary, 6; eye examinations, 2; flu, 21; mumps, 1; operations, appendectomy, 1.

Stanley M. Lukens, '26, has been appointed a ranger in the Missoula national forest.

David MacLay spent Thursday at his home in Lolo.

Masquers Will Elect New Set of Officers; Glick Gives Report

Nomination of a new set of officers was the order of business at the Montana Masquer's meeting in Main hall auditorium Tuesday evening. Mr. Glick, dramatic coach, also reported on the results of the Masquers' work so far this year.

Those nominated are: For president—Phil Ring, Missoula; Aaron Shull, Lewistown; vice president—Nan Walsh, Missoula; Maureen Desmond, Dillon; secretary-treasurer—Hildegard Weisberg, Missoula; Aubrey Houston, Bozeman. Election of officers will be held at the first meeting of the spring quarter, April 6.

Votes to Turn Over Profits.

The club voted unanimously to turn over its share of the profits from the three Moroni-Olson plays of the 1925-26 season to the American Association of University Women, who, together with the Masquers, have been sponsoring the Missoula performances of the repertory plays. This is the first time the players have appeared in Missoula, but the plays so far have been greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences. There is but one play to be presented yet this year: Paul Kester's "Friend Hannah," at the Liberty theater next Tuesday evening. The other plays, Shaw's "Pygmalion" and Ervine's "The Ship," were given during the fall and winter quarters.

TED L. RAMSEY REPORTS SOUTH AMERICAN STORY

Ted L. Ramsey, '23, is the author of a signed story in the Sioux Falls Press of March 7, which reveals some very interesting facts about South America, as related to him by Harry B. Johnson, a former Sioux Falls resident, who recently returned from an extended stay in the southern country.

Mr. Ramsey is now on the staff of the Sioux Falls paper, in an editorial capacity.

FROSH WILL MEET FIRST OF QUARTER TO DISCUSS PLANS

"Freshmen will meet the first week of next quarter to discuss plans for the quarter. Painting of the 'M' Albert day, its purpose and ceremony; trackmeet, freshmen assistants in track work, the feature stunt to be put on by the class during interscholastic trackmeet, the tug-of-war will also be discussed and committees appointed to care for each activity," said John Bolton, president of the freshman class when interviewed yesterday.

Norvell Ulvestad, junior president, promised a meeting of his class the first or second week of next quarter, at which time plans will be considered for the Junior prom. The affair has been definitely dated for May 28.

Foresters Give Farewell Party.

Short course men who will be leaving next week received a farewell from the members of the Forestry club at its last meeting of the quarter Wednesday evening in the Forestry library. Business for the quarter was cleared and a financial statement rendered.

CHEMISTS PRAISE PROFESSOR HOWARD

J. W. Howard, associate professor of chemistry, this week received a motor driven pressure and vacuum pump for use in research work to isolate new organic compounds. Money for the purchase of the pump was allowed Mr. Howard from the Walcott-Gibbs fund of the National Academy of Sciences and was given to him both in recognition of his past work and as an encouragement in future work along this line.

Journal Carries Article.

The March issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society, leading chemical journal of America, carried an article written by Mr. Howard on "Some Alcohols Containing the Trichloromethyl Group." The article described the preparation and properties of nine new compounds, and makes the ninth contribution he has made to various scientific journals since he came to the University of Montana.

Mr. Howard plans to make further study of some of these compounds to determine whether or not they have any medicinal value.

University Will Open Case Against Branch School for Use of Name

Dahlberg to Appoint Investigating Board to Look Into Alleged Infringement of Grizzly Title

When the Central Board holds its first meeting next quarter Oscar Dahlberg, ASUM president, will appoint a special committee, selected from the student body, to take up the question of preventing other schools from using the name "Grizzlies" for their athletic teams.

Two years ago the University of California, southern branch, adopted the name Grizzlies for its athletic teams. This action became known to the Central Board last fall and Dahlberg has been endeavoring to have the California students change the name before it becomes widely known. So far he has been unsuccessful and has decided to turn the matter over to a special committee who will be authorized to take the question up further.

May Take Legal Steps.

There is a possibility that the Associated Students may take legal action to prevent southern branch from using the name. This step will not be taken unless all other attempts fail. Attention to referring to the courts for redress was called by a news dispatch that appeared recently in coast papers wherein it was stated that University of California students were ready to resort to the courts to prevent the Mission hall club of San Francisco from using the name "Bears."

California students believe they have a good case at the Californians have been known as the "Bears" for a number of years. If California is successful there is a strong possibility that Montana will file a similar claim. The two cases are very much alike as the action seems to hinge upon the length of time the name has been used. Montana's teams have been known as "Grizzlies" since 1897 and have in that time acquired an almost nation-wide reputation. They are always referred to as the "Grizzlies" in newspaper columns.

The southern branch students while anxious to aid in settling the question did not offer an acceptable proposition. The council there suggested that Montana's teams be called the "Montana Grizzlies" and the southern branch teams the "California Grizzlies." As the University of California teams are known as the Golden Bears it seems fitting that Montana teams should be called Grizzlies.

Students here believed that two schools in the Pacific Coast conference with athletic teams called "Grizzlies" will lead to difficulties. When "Grizzlies" win and "Grizzlies" lose appear in the headlines of north-west and coast newspapers people will be at a loss to determine the school off-hand. Central Board members are anxious for an amiable settlement but may take legal action if the southern branch institution refuses to give up the name.

INSPECTOR INSTALLS SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Rho of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary musical sorority, was installed Wednesday evening by Miss Hazel E. Ritchey, national president, at the music practice house. Patronesses and associate members were initiated with the actives at the ceremony.

Clapp was initiated as an associate member and Mrs. Leonard Larson, president of the Music department of the Missoula Women's club; Mrs. Louise Arnoldson and Mrs. A. H. Weisberg were admitted as patronesses.

On Inspection Tour.

Miss Ritchey arrived Wednesday morning from Lincoln, Nebraska, and left Thursday morning for Moscow, Idaho, where she will visit the chapter for a few days before leaving for Los Angeles. The national president is beginning a tour of the various chapters, of which there are forty-one, scattered all over the country. She expressed herself as being very well pleased with the University and with the students here.

Cadets to Command ROTC Unit Work for Spring Quarter

Spring quarter classes in ROTC will meet on Mondays from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The battalion will be divided into four companies under the command of cadet officers and non-commissioned officers. Each company will be supervised by an instructor from the regular army. The supervising officers will be Captain Caulkins, Lieutenant LaCroix, Sergeant Kirkwood and Sergeant Peterson.

Cadets will stand inspection at every meeting of the battalion. Inspection will be based on position at attention, execution of inspection arms, condition of coat, belt, caps, breeches, leggings, shoes, answering of questions and military bearing. Grading will be on the basis of 100. Deductions will be made for any imperfection and the remaining points credited to the cadet as his grade for the inspection. Students will be required to keep clean rifles and bayonets issued to them. Each cadet must know the number of his rifle and its place in the rack. Failure to comply with this will draw 15 demerits.

FINES MUST BE PAID FOR WINTER QUARTER BREAKAGE AND LOSS

Charges by departments for loss, breakage and fines for the Winter Quarter will be collected at the time of payment of Spring Quarter fees, March 30 to April 3, inclusive. Grades for the Winter Quarter will not be released until these charges have been paid. Students who withdraw at the end of the Winter Quarter should call at the Business Office to pay these charges before leaving the University, if they wish to receive their credits, according to the registrar.

"Native Sons" Have Hankering for "Grizzly"

FOR more than six years University athletes have been known in inter-collegiate sporting circles as Grizzlies. The name, which was chosen in preference to Bruin as being typically representative of the school and the northwest, is known from coast to coast as a Montana label.

Two years ago the University of California, southern branch, made the announcement that Grizzly had been adopted as a by-word for its athletic teams. The action was not known to the Central Board until last fall, at which time a protest was sent to the southern California school urging the student body to make another choice. The answer, which was not a surprising one to receive from an institution so evidently lacking in imagination and originality, suggested that the University teams be known as "Montana Grizzlies" and southern branch athletes as "California Grizzlies." While the offer was extremely generous, the Central Board oddly enough has objected to the proposal and as a result a committee will be selected within the next few weeks to probe the question and recommend action.

Communication

To the Editor of the Kaimin:

The review of Icebound which appeared in the Kaimin for February 19, 1926, was unsigned; hence, the responsibility must fall on the management of the paper. I waited for an answer by a student in the issue following, but since none has been forthcoming, I wish to challenge one statement in the review. The crudities in Icebound were not so obvious to the audience of four hundred people as to warrant so severe and ungenerous a criticism. I cannot speak as a seasoned theatergoer and do not intend to enter into a controversy with the reviewer, but my conversation with numerous students, faculty members and townspeople leads me to believe that he is in error as to the general impression created by the performance. The acting of Mr. Brewer, who had done his part in the "Valiant" so artistically, brought forth unusually favorable comment. Seldom has a newcomer aroused more interest. The slight crudities which may have appeared occasionally were certainly offset by the satisfaction that so much new talent was unearthed. The seasoned veterans of the Masquers have all reason to feel that their splendid work and high standards will be maintained.

Realism on the stage cannot possibly arouse the enthusiasm that generally greets a good romantic play, but the lack of spontaneous applause should not be interpreted as disappointment. The close attention paid to the lines suggested that the audience was interested. My impression was that it was distinctly pleased. The work of the dramatic coach certainly deserves appreciation. He has chosen appropriate and inexpensive plays; he has encouraged talent; above all, he and the efficient publicity manager are responsible for the liquidation of the debt which has been a burden to the Masquers in past years. Although I cannot dispute authoritatively the comments of the reviewer I deny that his verdict can claim unanimity on the part of the audience.

HERMAN J. DEUTSCH.

LESLIE B. PETRIE,
KUOM OPERATOR,
PLANS TO RESIGN

Leslie B. Petrie, operator of KUOM, has recently signified his intention of leaving the service of the University station to accept a position with the Federal Telephone and Telegraph company. Petrie has been connected with the station since its opening in the fall of 1924. His

The attitude of the southern branch can hardly fail to be a distinct disappointment to University students. The name Grizzly is already so dearly and closely associated with Montana traditions that its origin is beyond question. Unless the southern California school finds a more satisfactory and honorable way out of the difficulty the ASUM will be urged to seek redress before the courts, where the time element will undoubtedly give Montana a priority right to the name.

Next week University students will have a splendid opportunity to demonstrate whether or not they are capable of handling their own affairs. The examination, in which every individual participating constitutes a proctor, is entirely in the hands of the student body. Not only were the special proctors recommended and chosen by a representative committee, but the disciplinary board which will pass on infringements and recommend punishment, is composed entirely of students chosen from the personnel of the junior and senior classes.

Since special proctors have been appointed to serve as well as students taking the examination, the plan is not in the true sense of the word an honor system. On the other hand, it represents the first significant step forward in democratic administration—and upon its success will depend, to a considerable measure, the future of self-government at Montana.

Dr. J. B. Finley, upon surrender of his professorship at the University of California to become dean of the University of Mexico, left this parting thrust for American colleges: "Our nation probably will be saved, for a few years at least, by the young men who cannot go to a college or a university."

commercial operator's license was granted in that year, and he served as assistant operator for the balance of 1924 and the winter and spring of 1925.

Petrie filled the vacancy left by Earl Lenigan, former head operator, who left at the end of the last summer term to work with the Western Electric company in Chicago. He was responsible for most of the work in the construction of the KUOM transmitter which was completed this fall and since has been in active charge of the operating end of the University station.

Petrie will probably be assigned to some Alaskan shore station and will visit with his relatives in Spokane pending his appointment by the federal company. He contemplates a possible return to the University at the expiration of his term of service.

REVIEWS of Books and Plays

The Best Plays of 1924-1925.
Burns Mantle, author.
Small, Maynard & Co., publishers.
Price $2.50.

The sixth annual issue of "The Best Plays (1924-1925)" shows again that fine sense of discrimination which Burns Mantle exercises in the drama. Particularly does Mr. Mantle show his knowledge of the fundamental appeal of each of the plays he reports by quoting and by the exact transportation of the plays discussed.

This issue of the year book of the drama in America contains conspicuously "What Price Glory," "Desire Under the Elms," "They Knew What They Wanted," and "The Firebrand," to the reviewer in the order named. Those of us who miss the New York dramatic season for many reasons or for one, will find the play in which the favored actor or actress he has been longing to see, make a success or a failure.

Again, Burns Mantle, by his sense of analysis and correlation, has issued a handbook invaluable to a student of the American drama and to the playgoer.

The delightful part about this book is that the author shows that he is one of the finest critics of the drama in the country by evaluating the plays without obtruding himself upon the reader's attention.

FORMER STUDENT WINS PROMOTION AT ILLINOIS

William Koch, who was graduate from the Chemistry department of the University last spring, is now doing graduate work at the University of Illinois. His work there has been so successful that he has been re-appointed graduate assistant in the chemistry department at twice his present pay.

During his first semester at Illinois, Koch led his class in scholarship in two courses.

TODAY'S SONG HIT.

"I used to be a school teacher, but I haven't any class any more."

Which moves us to ask, "Why shouldn't powder be popular with women? It's onto all the latest feminine wrinkles."

Mrs. Brannon has had a strenuous week, all right. She doubtless went back to Helena all tea-ed up.

Be like the cross word puzzle fiend And pay your bills Before you go home between Quarters. In other words, "Get all squared up."

Many a dress that a co-ed thinks is a perfect fit is more often a convolution.

FREE FACTS FOR FROSH.

If you want to tell the number of pieces of macaroni on your plate, add up the ends and divide by two.

Many a fellow tells of having been around lots, but nine times out of ten they were back lots.

We can think of one thing worse than raining cats and dogs, and that's hailing strange girls.

You might as well be satisfied with the knowledge that you can't eat your cake and be collegiate too.

And when the frosh was asked to use the word "Idaho" in a sentence, he said: "Idaho lot rather be here than in Bozeman."

And as Alexander Graham Bell said, "I Hear You Calling Me."

Montana Fight

It was class day. The clock was carelessly ticking away the last minutes in the life of '01.

Out on the dusty athletic field trotted nine bearers of the Vandal colors.

From the bench nine other figures in make-shift uniforms waited for the fray.

The bell in the tower of old Main hall did not ring out its pean of victory that day.

But, the throats of Montana rooters did echo against the steady shoulder of Mount Sentinel.

Grizzly warriors had fought in the first interstate collegiate athletic battle held in the state of Montana.

Always Looking to The Public Welfare

While we have Stores over a wide expansion of country, we do not hope to do all the business. Quite in the opposite.

While we strive to do a profitable business, we aim to develop ideals in business generally through our own practices that will bring about a more economical distribution of merchandise.

Any step toward attaining a condition where the public is enabled to enjoy the lowest possible prices on goods of strictly reliable quality will have our fullest support.

To that end we are working diligently with manufacturers and transportation interests as well as directing our own operations so that waste (which means cost) may be eliminated.

VARSITY SONGSTERS SCORE WITH CROWD

Sands O' Dee" being especially well received.

Alton Bloom, a freshman from Miles City, played his three violin solos in a truly professional manner. Harold Craven, making his first appearance as a soloist in Missoula, pleased the audience with two bass solos.

The Grizzly Pepsters, Driscoll, Krogh and Nichols, gave a series of dance numbers that set feet tapping and bodies swaying all over the house. Christian and Bloom, in their Charleston demonstration, added much to the appeal of the orchestra with their grace and agility.

Miss Berry Pleases.
Miss Berry's piano solos are all so superlatively good that one can only say that her work was characteristically done. It has often been remarked that the "Glee club would not be the Glee club without Miss Berry." DeLoss Smith's rich baritone has made him a host of friends in Montana. "I Passed a Stately Cavalcade," "Cargoes," and that old favorite, "Rolling Down to Rio," were the numbers given by the director Wednesday evening. Having been troubled with laryngitis for several weeks, he was forced to cancel his "Song of the Toreador" which was to have been sung with the club.

Today's sick list: Elinore Ayres, Vivian Lewis, Gertrude White, Vernon Hollingsworth, Francis McAuliffe and Mabel Sanger.

Webster Working, '29, of Wilsall, will not attend school during the spring quarter. He intends to take a position with the Yellowstone Park Transportation company.

Mrs. Geraldine Grant spent last Sunday with her father, R. A. O'Hara, in Hamilton.

"The first thing one notices is the great improvement in the material aspect," said Dr. Charles Upson in his illustrated lecture on the Charm and Interest of Modern Spain, in Main hall auditorium last night. "Spain is not wealthy," continued, "but there has been enormous change since the early 90's. The average Spaniard is richer off now than the average Englishman."

Bullfights Are Few
"Bullfights are being crowded out of football—20 years ago you saw boys playing the role of a bull-fighter in the street, but now they are playing football. By football I mean soccer—our regular American association football is too rough," football has taken such a hold on Spain that only three bull-fight rings are now making any money, according to Dr. Clark.

Spain Has Radio Bug
"The Spaniard is slow to follow—also slow to pay—but the radio is taken Spain by storm," said Dr. Clark, "mainly because the Spanish government did not place a tax on it." In speaking of their war in Morocco, which is really a revolution against the Spanish Directorate, he said, "Since 1910, Spain has lost more men than did the United States in the World war. This is due largely to incompetency—the Riffians are poorly equipped, but simply take possession of the Spaniards' modern equipment. In this way the Riffs fight the Spaniards with Spanish guns and machinery."

"Unless this is stopped before long," said Dr. Clark, "it will undoubtedly result in the overthrow of the Directorate. Morocco is like California, but is twice as big. No matter what little village you go into today in Spain, several mothers have sons in the war down in Morocco." Dr. Clark showed slides of scenes in Morocco, many of which were pictures of the methods of warfare that are being used in that section during the present war.

Shows Many Slides
On the conclusion of his talk on the Moroccan territory, he showed scenes of Spain. Included in these were: The old stage-coach, which is now being replaced by the motor bus; the Rock of Gibraltar, which is being pricked in the flesh of pain, it being under English control now; and pictures of patios and outyards. All of his slides were accompanied by an incident of history, or an interesting interpretation in the part of Dr. Clark. Dr. Clark will leave Missoula for Minneapolis where he will continue his lecture tour.

BRADLEY'S ARTICLE

reactive, interesting and catchy manner. It tells the adventures of the author and his companions in their search for the marine denizens of the past, now securely rooted in the sedimentary rocks of the high Rockies. The article will have 37 illustrations some of which were taken by the author and others loaned by the Forest Service. It is of interest to note that this is the first article on the northern Rockies which will have appeared in the National Geographic for a long period of time.

Important Means of Attracting.
This article which gives such a glowing account of the charms of the Montana Rockies should be an important means of attracting attention to Montana. Its publication in the National Geographic Magazine, whose circulation was 750,000 in 1922, should advertise to travelling people the recreational possibilities of this state.

The motto of the National Geographic is "The Increase and Diffusion of Geographic Knowledge." In adhering to their motto the society sends exploring parties to all parts of the world in search of further knowledge along geographic lines.

PREPARES PLANS FOR ABER DAY

Pat Sugrue, manager of the 1926 Aber day, has appointed Walter Griffin as his assistant for this year's annual clean-up, which is to be held sometime during the first part of next quarter.

Sugrue has started to get a line on the work which must be done to make the campus look its best. The lamp-posts must be painted, the rubbish and waste raked off the grass and a number of corners and untidy places on the campus must be cleaned.

As tradition goes, "M" men will act as guards and police to see that all students turn out for the annual event, and that a thorough job is done in cleaning the Montana campus. Further announcements will be made next quarter.

SPORTY-VENTS

This from the Montana Record-Herald: Montana football fans keeping their ears to the ground are patiently watching and waiting for the announcement regarding the new University football coach. Rumors are afloat that official red tape is clogging wheels and that a West Point captain favored for the job must take the matter through federal channels before even considering a tentative offer.

The West Point captain referred to is Major Milburn. Meanwhile Washington State, the only other Coast conference school outside of Montana that was without a coach, has employed Coach Hollingberry, former Olympic club mentor, and has high hopes.

First it was a blind basketball team winning from a quint with normal vision, and now it's a one-armed court star. Hilda Hays, 16, who was born with one arm, is a star performer on the girls' basketball team of the Dougherty, Oklahoma, high school.

Al Schuss will captain the 1927 Husky hoop team.

Renewed interest is being shown in bowling as the time for the championship games approaches. According to an agreement among themselves the Phi Deltas and Sig Alphas will topple the pins for the championship tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Probable lineups are:

Phi Delta Theta	Sigma Alpha
Higbee	Reed
Hale	Fritsch
Larsen	Colby
Orr	Higham
Surgue	Shults

South ball boys have a new pastime—barnyard golf. They are holding a horseshoe tournament with 15 or more teams participating. The high point individual and the winning team will be given a prize for their prowess.

Charley Hoff cracked two world's records and won five of the seven events in his indoor meet with Emerson Norton and Harold Osborn the other night. He now holds the world's indoor all-around crown. He shattered the standing broad jump and pole vaulting marks. His leap was 23 feet 7 3/4 inches, and his pole vault mark was 13 feet 7 inches, making the ninth time he has surpassed the listed record. A sprained ankle put Osborn out early in the meet, but it is doubtful if either of the Americans, in top form, could have taken the laurels from the pole vaulting Viking that night.

When the major and minor league baseball rules committee met this winter no radical changes were made, but the outstanding amendments and changes were:

The provision that, under the supervision and control of the umpire, the pitcher may use, to dry his hands, a small, finely meshed sealed bag, containing rosin furnished by the league.

A change of Rule 74, giving the umpire authority to call a game if, after play has been suspended for thirty minutes, resumption of play is in his opinion not possible.

A change giving a batter credit for a sacrifice hit on all fly balls when a runner advances to any base.

The provision that a wild-pitch on a third strike be credited as an error for the pitcher and not a strikeout.

A new rule making the ball "dead" when a balk is committed.

An amendment prohibiting the pitcher to throw to any base unless for the purpose of catching a baserunner.

A change in Rule 59 making it compulsory for a batter who hits a home run in the last half of the last inning to touch all the bases if he wishes to be credited with a home run.

A change in the rule defining when substitutions may be made so as to read that substitutes cannot be entered while the ball is in play.

The change covering resumption of play does not mean that the umpire must call the game. It merely gives him authority to do so. In the past a batter was credited with a sacrifice fly only when a runner scored from third. The rule against the pitcher's throwing to the bases is designed to prevent this method of giving a batter an intentional base on balls.

Auditor Presents Report on Use of Student Funds

Montana's student activity fee of $2,882.25 for football during the fall quarter of 1925 represented the capital stock of the University athletic fund, from which a profit of $6,140.03 was realized. From this fund $2,000 was invested in the new Dornblaser field and $1,905.83 was deducted to cover a deficit contracted during the season of 1924.

GRIZZLY BASEBALL TOSSERS START OUTDOOR PRACTICE

Large Squad Reporting for Pitch Hitting Workouts on Temporary Field

With outside baseball practice under way and a possibility of six practice games with the Fort Missoula nine, the Grizzly ball tossers are beginning to feel the gingery interest of the national pastime. Cold weather has, however, slowed practices considerably the last week.

The north goal post of the old Dornblaser field has been covered with a wire netting to provide a backstop for hitting practice. The boys are smacking the pellet fairly regularly for this early in the season. The one disheartening angle is the slow progress that is being made on the new diamond. Much more filling-in is needed, and the long expected new roller has not arrived.

All But Few Report.

All but four or five of the men expected out have reported. Tarbox, last season's second and third sacker, will likely be in uniform next quarter, as will Berg, letterman outfielder. Illman, veteran left fielder, reported for the initial call, but will not be out regularly until after this quarter. Gannon, pitcher; Paige, infielder; Fell, hurler, and W. Hodges, infielder, will step into the cleats soon.

Renaud, pitcher and outfielder, is the latest recruit. With 35 or more candidates, several of whom are veterans, available after the beginning of the new quarter, Montana should be represented by a classy ball club this season.

Hurling Prospects Rosy.

The 10 men who have signified their intentions to do some hurling are Brown, Hanson, Rafferty, O'Connor, Brewer, Gannon, Wohl, Johnson, Renaud and Fell. Kelly, Drew and Colville are the available backstops.

Both infield and outfield berths will remain in the balance for some time because of the large numbers fighting for chances. The infield must be picked from Captain Meagher, Anderson, Burtness, Tarbox, Hunter, Dohrman, Ronglien, Morrow, Kamps, W. Hodges and Paige. Among the gardeners to be selected from are Illman, Berg, Fellhaber, Wood, Fleming, Larson, Liefelt, W. Blue, Jackson, Neidt and Wilson.

VARSITY TO DEBATE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Varsity debaters will meet the University of Utah representatives in open forum non-decision debate on the prohibition question Thursday evening, March 25, in the Main hall auditorium. The question will be: "Resolved, That the Volstead act should be so amended as to permit the manufacture, sale and use of light wines and beer."

Herbert Hoagland and Arthur Archer will defend the affirmative side of the question here. Charles Conley and Gid Boldt, University negative team, will go to debate the University affirmative team in Salt Lake City, April 8, and the Utah Agricultural college at Logan, Utah, Friday, April 9. It is hoped they may also debate the School of Mines at Butte, Sunday, April 11, and in that case they will also support the negative, according to H. M. Keele, coach. Main speeches and rebuttals will be given 15 and seven minutes respectively.

Men Return From Trip.

The men who took the annual state trip in a tour debate against Montana State College returned the first of the week. Two circuits were made; Einar Strommes and Sid McCarthy taking the affirmative, and Archie Blair and Joe Sweeney supporting the negative opposed the M. S. C. teams over the eastern route. Carl McFarland and Ed Poole, affirmative; Edwin Booth and Harry Sager, negative, took the northern route through Kalispell. Arthur Archer substituted at Kalispell for Carl McFarland, who was unable to appear with the team for this first circuit debate on account of illness with the flu. McFarland was able to join his team for the second debate of Columbia Falls.

The men who made the state trip considered it a very successful one from the standpoint of putting the question before the public and boosting the University. Teams were well matched, according to reports of the trip, and the debates were closely contested.

MORONI OLSEN PLAY TO SHOW HERE SOON

Paul Kester's "Friend Hannah" Last of Moroni Olsen Plays This Year

"Friend Hannah," Paul Kester's dashing historical costume play built around a romance between King George III, of England, and a dainty little Quaker maid, will be the third and last offering of the year by the Moroni Olsen Players at the Liberty Theater, Tuesday, March 23.

Here in the tale of the life of a little Quaker and her love affair with the Prince of Wales, later King George III, is woven the intensely interesting action of history. There is always an air of familiarity about the people we have known in our studies that makes them appeal to us on the stage, and that is one of the best points of "Friend Hannah." Lord Bute, the most hated prime minister England ever had, and the Dukes of York and Chandos are others of historical significance and familiar names.

The time of action is before the American revolution, and scenes are divided between the Lightfoot's, Hannah's family, homes. Throughout the play there is that sweetness and cleanliness that characterizes the Quakers and makes them one of our interesting national figures. Roses and nightingales, old fashioned ways, the intimate tales of royalty, play their parts in the story. Knowing the Moroni Olsen Players from their past Missoula performances, the nationally known "sweetest play" should be better than anything they have offered Missoula audiences in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Burner Survant have recently returned from their honeymoon and are now located at Glasgow. Mrs. Survant was Iris Stine ex-'27, of Malta.

Joyce Webb, '29, was a dinner guest at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house Wednesday.

Marian Radle of Missoula was a dinner guest at the Alpha Phi house Wednesday.
